Black vs everything else....

What I noticed on the train this morning and pretty much every other day is that we really like black clothes where I live....and grey....and the shades in between black and grey. I had to ask myself why don't we wear more hot pinks or turquoise blues? Where's the reds, the oranges, maybe some bright green. Then I looked down at my clothes; black boots, black pants, black shirt, blue sweater...Hooray a blue sweater!...With specks of black mixed in... Oh well. I loved this photo spread of colourful fashion, see what you think! Maybe I'll wear some green tomorrow.
